Dear Jim,

Ten years ago my husband and I made a decision to do a professional landscaping on our property, both front and backyard. At this point we did not have anything except grass and we did not have any gardening experience.

We started looking for a professional landscaping designer to implement our dream. A person from my work recommended Jim Carreau as a reputable landscaping architect. I became very comfortable with Jim at our first meeting. He asked me many questions about our requirements. I didn't have any clear ideas what I wanted. And I said that I wanted the best looking yard in the neighborhood.

With Jim's creative ability, everything worked out very well for us. Our job was finished on time, on budget and exceeded our expectations. And ten years later we are proud to tell that we have the best looking garden on our street. This is not only our opinion, because our neighbors asked for Jim's contact information to implement their work. We are very comfortable to recommend Jim to anybody who has pride for their house and garden.
